POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP 2017-2018

Capital Institute for Cognitive Therapy is currently accepting applications for our 2017-2018 Postdoctoral Fellowship. Fellows receive expert-level training and supervision in empirically-supported cognitive-behavioral and integrative psychotherapy while accumulating hours for licensure. Most of our prior Fellows have chosen to remain as full staff members after earning their license. Fellows may chose a full or part-time schedule.

Capital Institute is one of the leading providers of empirically-supported cognitive-behavioral therapy in the Washington DC area. We specialize in treating mood and anxiety disorders and work with a wide range of other presenting problems. We provide a collegial atmosphere with fellow professionals committed to quality patient care and continued learning. Dr. Stephen Holland, the Institute Director, is an internationally recognized CBT expert. Many members of our clinical staff are involved in research, publish scholarly articles, present at major conferences and/or provide training to other professionals.

Postdoctoral fellows perform initial assessments and provide psychotherapy. They receive individual supervision with licensed psychologists and group supervision led by Dr. Holland. Additional opportunities may include responding to initial inquiry calls from prospective patients, co-leading a group and assisting the Director with research projects.

The Postdoctoral Fellowship is open to graduates from APA-approved clinical psychology training programs who have completed internship. Applicants must have supervised experience providing cognitive-behavioral treatment. We will consider start dates up to September 1, 2017. Application deadline is January 31, 2017, but applications will be considered on a rolling basis as received. Please send a statement of interest, CV describing academic and clinical training and references to Stephen Holland, Psy.D. at cictapplications@gmail.com.
