Postdoctoral Fellowship Program

Capital Institute for Cognitive Therapy, a leading provider of empirically-supported cognitive-behavioral treatments in the Washington DC metro area, is pleased to announce that we are accepting applications for our Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. We will consider start dates between September 1, 2021 and September 1, 2022.

Postdoctoral Fellows receive expert level supervision and clinical experience with a wide range of presenting problems while accumulating hours for licensure. Most postdocs choose to remain in the practice after becoming licensed. Postdocs may be full or part-time and may work in our DC and/or Bethesda locations.

Capital Institute provides a collegial atmosphere with fellow professionals committed to quality patient care and continued learning. Dr. Stephen Holland, the Institute Director, is an internationally recognized CBT expert. Many members of our clinical staff are involved in research, publish scholarly articles, present at major conferences and/or provide training to other professionals. We work with a full range of CBT interventions, including cognitive therapy, exposure-based treatments, and mindfulness/acceptance approaches.

With a clinical staff of 17, we serve a large and diverse patient population. Opportunities exist to develop areas of special interest within a general group practice. Work schedules are flexible depending on staff members needs and preferences.

Requirements: Applicants must have completed an APA approved internship program and be eligible for graduation with a doctoral degree in clinical psychology prior to beginning the fellowship.

Salary for full-time postdoctoral fellow: $70,000-100,000.
